Child Sex Abuse: The Silent Epidemic

Together we can stand with the millions of men who have been screaming in silence as they find their voice.

Join Hassan Daniel of The Father Factory Inc., as he talks with the Washington State Fatherhood Council and learn about the silent epidemic of child sexual abuse. This talk is for all of us who care about the men in our lives and who nurture and protect boys and their path to manhood.

Learn about this hidden threat to public health, its impact on boys and men, the chilling statistics, and ways we can give voice to the voiceless. One in six boys and men are known to have experienced sexual assault, yet these numbers reflect under-reporting due to stigma, blame, and shame. Discover how the child sexual abuse crisis can be prevented, fathers who have experienced childhood sexual abuse can become the fathers they want to be. Moderated by child psychiatrist Joshua Sparrow, MD of the Brazelton Touchpoints Center at Boston Children's Hospital.
