

Brain Science Leads the Way: So What, Now What?

WA FRONTIERS OF INNOVATION: FIRST 1,000 DAYS KICK-OFF

June 21, 2017

10:00 am – 4:00 PM in the Washington State Capitol Legislative Building, Columbia Room

10:00 – 10:05	Opening Remarks WA State Representative Ruth Kagi
10:05 – 11:00	“Driving Science-Based Innovation to Achieve Breakthrough Outcomes for Young Children Facing Adversity” Dr. Jack Shonkoff, Founder and Director of the Center on the Developing Child at Harvard University
11:00 – 12:30	WA State Agencies Work Differently Together because of Brain Science David Stillman, DSHS Economic Services Administration, Assistant Secretary Greg Williamson, Dept. of Early Learning, Assistant Director Lacy Fehrenbach, Dept. of Health, Family & Community Health Director Karma Hugo, Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Director of Early Learning Todd Slettvet, Health Care Authority, Community Services Section Manager With additional opportunity for comment Dr. Jack Shonkoff, Center on the Developing Child at Harvard University
12:30 – 1:00	Lunch
1:00-2:00	WA FOI Overview: Background, Two Portfolios of Work, & Introduce First 1,000 Days Community Partner Sites Ruth Kagi, WA State Representative Jason Gortney, Children’s Home Society, Director of Innovation and Policy Anne Stone, Economic Services Administration, WA FOI Statewide Director
2:00 – 3:30	Table Discussions: How does the science guide us to work differently together?
3:30-4:00	Closing Remarks Alise Hegle, Advocacy Project Manager, Children’s Home Society