Connecting Fathers Workgroup

Feb. 2nd, 10am-11am

Attendees: Louis Mendoza, Ellen Nolan, Micah Jackson, Kyle Paskewitz, Jeremiah Donier, Anne Stone, Amanda Krotke-Crandall, Nelson Rascon, John Bodkins

Meeting Goals:

1.) Exploring what an established Washington Fatherhood Corps might look like in the future.

Topic	Notes
Welcome and Introductions	 We have the opportunity with Jeremiah's support to put together a newsletter. Nelson would incorporate some of this information into his own newsletter or forward to his list. For cadence - possibly a quarterly publication would be good, once a month maybe "Dynamic Dad" tip. Blocks of content might include: Dad story/practioner story (Positive things being done with dads around the state), Highlight latest father/parenting research. Quarterly update on Council activities. Scan survey Link/ & link to the services map, Resource links. Also highlight opportunities for action and improvement. Micah proposed making contact with the person in the dad's story and do a follow up in newsletter or blog. "Dear Abby style." Could provide some prompt questions, discuss them at the council and publish a response. Next step: What platform would be best to distribute electronically? Then create a template to update the content as we go. Will reach out to Jeremiah in a few weeks Washington Fatherhood Corps Building off of the Fatherhood Corp Alameda County CA model. Fatherhood friendly principles training corps and system influence. 	 Why don't fathers have equal rights to their children? What happens in the legal system around co-parenting (DCS, Custody, dissolution)? Fathers experience accessing resources –Ex. WIC and the new WA Fatherhood Tool Kit, Child Support 101. Fathers coming out of incarceration and transitioning back to their families. • So you are going to be a father- caring for mom, what to expect when baby is born, how to care for a newborn, and what it means to be a dad. • Fatherhood Factory • Fathers involved with CPS/ Child welfare the dependency arena.
Next meetings: Occurs the first Tuesday of every month 10-11am PT over Zoom	Please Register for the 3 rd Summit

2.) Establish key components for a Fatherhood Newsletter
